CHARLESTON BAR. It is our pleasure to anounce, that the bark Annie Kimball, of Bath, Maine, Captain Lincoln, from Newport, England, with a cargo of about one thousand tons railroad iron, was brought over the bar yesterday afternoon by the steaming Christiana, Captain Schly, the pilot of bark being Captain THOS. JONES, and of the tug Captain Saml. CHAPMAN, both of them masters of their business. The Annie Kimbatt drew eighteen feet six inches, being about a foot and-s-half more than has ever crossed our bar, and establishing the gratifying fact that the Pumpkin Hill Channel, which is now the passage to and from this port used by large vessels, has more water capacity than any previous entrance leading into this harbor. The pilots concerned in this matter deserve particular credit for the boldness and skill with which they navigated an extraordinary draft of water safely into port.

NEW LOCOMOTIVE.-The Gen. WILDS, made her first trip from Florence to this city on Monday, in sharge of Mr. H. A. Uzmo, engineer, and left with the passengers yesterday morning. While she bears the name of an old engine of this road, she has been thoroughly rebuilt at the machine shops of the Northeastern Bailroad at Florence, under the direction of Mr. D. W. HAINES, master machinist, and is in every respect a first-class engine. Handsomely fitted up and elegantly painted, recaiving the finishing stroke from the tasteful breah of Mr. Ridder, who bears a fine reputation for skill and taste. This shop is in a location where economy to company and workmen can be it is but reasonable to expect to see Florence : flourishing town at an early day, built up by energy and industry. The company have already ted shops for car and engine building of every tyle, giving employment to a large number of persons in that locality.

THE CITADEL SQUARE.—We are pleased to see that the military authorities are taking active steps to improve the appearance of the Citadel Square by the erection of a strong picket fence. Before the war the Green was enclosed by a substantial fence, with gates opening on the different streets, and through which alone ingress or egress could be obtained. The property was under the gree it, not only for a pleasure ground, but as loved to pass beyond its limits without special . At tha' time a shell walk extended d the enclosure, shade trees were planted, e of visitors. The war, and the occupation the Green as a camping ground, soon changed ts neat appearance; the side walks disappeared, the trees were destroyed by the horses, the fence was raided upon for fire wood, and it became what s is at present, a barren common, unrelieved by any ornament.

Rince the occupation of this property by the United States forces, they have endeavored o restore somewhat of its pristine appearance, not the building has been thoroughly repaired, sinted and white-washed. Although this has been a great improvement, the absence of a fence has detracted greatly from the looks of the Green, and has rendered it a common high road for travwho make short cuts over it in order to municate with the different streets. Latterly, Green has become a popular place of resort, nd crowds gather either to witness the games of Base Ball, or to listen to the music of the Post Band, and watch the evolutions of the soldiers at Press Parade. As it is almost the only Public Square of any size, and being located in the heart of the city, its patronage will gradually increase and when the proposed improvements are made, it will be again an oznament to that section, and will rank among the first of the few breathing spots that are accessable to the citizens. Propo-als for erecting the fence will be received at the fice of the Department Quartermaster, until the 10th inst, and the attention of contractors is directed to the advertisement in another column.

A New Exteress. Since the war the public nd has been mainly interested in the two great abjects of restoration and reconstruction. The rst is a political question on which we do not deerre to expatiate; but the second is in the hands of the people themselves, and it is only by their own as that the desired end can be obtained. The change in our circumstances has impressed upon every one the necessity of developing our fore hidden resources, and of making every power subserviceable for that purpose. It is true but the South has always been considered an agricultural country, and the people were content to raise their products, and depend upon strangers to furnish them their supplies of manufactured oods. But that day has passed, and the far-seeng men in the South have already commenced the erection of large factories, which are destined to be not only a source of wealth to the people, but ill do more to induce immigration than every effort that may be made by the Commissioners.

There are few persons who do not remember the ferings of her brave soldiers in consequence of the want of suitable clothing, and our defeat was probbly owing to this cause as much as to any other. upon every mind, and we are pleased to see that a time on this account. We were induced to make these remarks from a close examination of the MENDENHALL Loom now by been associated with the gentle beverage. on exhibition in this city. We have seldom seen a piece of machinery that combined simplicity with so nuch power, and could be worked with so little to make a revolution in manufacturing sections, as it is an improvement on every one heretofore in use. It can be made to produce any style of goods, from the finest fabrics to a coarse duck or osnaburgs, and the change from one to the other is eftrouble. The movements of the loom are exceedingly simple, and can be easily learnt by any practo the clumsy affairs to be seen in almost every

The introduction of this loom is destined fected in a few moments, and but with little tical mind, while those who have been accustomed farm house, will at once see the vast superiority of the MENDENHALL Loom over other patents. THE OBSTRUCTION IN THE CHANNEL.—A bill has been introduced in Council regulating the dredging of docks, and stating that the mud must hereafter be thrown on the Hog Island side of the channel. A report from the Harbor Master, which was laid before Council, says that in consequence of the mud being dumped in the channel a bank has been formed that will interfere with the shipping. It may be possible that the eontinued use of the channel as a place of deposit will eventually fill it up and form a mud bank; but at present there is nothing to fear-the action of the water carrying the mud to the sea; and we learn from an old merchant that the channel is perfectly clear.

Messrs. W. B. It was an inauguration that the Messrs. Herrior could well be proud of, for their ideas were fully carried out, and the building became for the nonce a Merchant's Exchange.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE:

Mesirs. Little & Marshalt:

GENTLEMEN: I used, during the past season, one of "Ingersoll's Portable Cotton Pressea," purchased of you last september. I have always been prejudiced in favor of the "Screw Press," and nothing but dire necessity induced me to try any other. I take pleasure, however, in adding my testimony in favor of its entire adaptation to the wants of a cotton plantation. It has surpassed my most sanguine expectations. I have packed with but two hands, yet I prefer four—two at each lever. My bales all weighed over 500 lbs. The first lot I sent to market severaged 562 ls. My impression is that 500 lbs. Is about the capacity of the Press, and a greater number of pounds subject the follow-block to too much risk, unless the sides of the cotton box was increased. It would
